

FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT AND CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

2ND KENYA INTERNATIONAL SCIENTIFIC LUNG HEALTH CONFERENCE

6th – 8th October 2011

Kenyatta International Conference Centre
(KICC) Nairobi, Kenya

The Division of Leprosy, Tuberculosis and Lung Disease (DLTLD) of Kenya's Ministry of Public Health and Sanitation (MOPHS), in collaboration with national and international partners, is hosting its second pivotal conference to draw attention to established and emerging lung health issues and status of public health responses. This conference will bring together medical practitioners, public health specialists, scientists, scholars, community activists, other health professionals and all stakeholders with a common agenda of promoting lung health.

Conference Theme:

“Towards Universal Access to TB/HIV and Comprehensive Lung Health Service”

The Scientific Program: Topical plenary and thematic oral and poster presentations addressing the following sub-themes: Operations research for improved TB programme performance; Managing a health programme; Implementing the Practical Approach to Lung health ; Implementing a Tuberculosis Infection Control Plan at Health Care facilities;

- ❖ HIV and the Lung to deal with non TB HIV related lung problems
- ❖ Acute lung infections and the challenge of increasing antimicrobial drug resistance
- ❖ Oxygen therapy: rational use and the challenges of making it widely available
- ❖ Critical care in Kenya: the role of the respiratory physician
- ❖ Tobacco or Health: practical
- ❖ Rare but important Lung Diseases
- ❖ Pulmonary vascular disease
- ❖ Vaccinations for preventing adult lung disease
- ❖ Asthma
- ❖ Chronic Obstructive Lung Disease
- ❖ Health System and Lung health

Visit the Website: www.kenyalunghealth.com

For registration and abstract submission details: Enquiries should be addressed to the Conference Coordinator [lunghealth@kenyalunghealth.com] or Hillary Kipruto [lunghealth@nltp.co.ke].

Abstracts must be received by June 20, 2011

The Conference Organizing Committee warmly welcomes you and your organization to be part of this exciting Conference

